The three reasons why
this book was written.

FOREWORD

There are many reasons for trying to trace one's family. The purpose of my study of the Hunt Family was to provide my children with a family tree which was as complete and accurate as possible. I had often wondered who my ancestors were and where they had come from. When I first started to assemble information, I found that I knew only my grandparents, Algernon and Mahala Hunt. Members of the immediate family (my father, aunts and uncles) knew a little more, but only two or three generations back. At this point I suppose that I should have been satisfied, but I had become fascinated with the subject of genealogy. This little book is the result.

In reviewing the information contained here, the most interesting fact is the number of generations who are native to this country. The Hunt and Davis families are as American as any. As far as could be determined all branches of the two families have been in North America since the 1700's, and some were among the very earliest settlers in what is now the United States. There are coats of arms for both Hunt and Davis, but there is no evidence that we are entitled to use them. What information that is available shows the members of these earlier generations to have been honest, upright citizens, some of whom were quite prominent in their day. I found no written evidence of black sheep or scoundrels; one rarely does unless the individual is a great scoundrel. However, I suspect that both families had their share of individuals whom they would just as soon forget.

Another interesting aspect of this study is the multiple relationships found in the third and fourth generations before Algernon Hunt and Mahala Wesley Davis. Here we find that Algernon and Mahala were distant cousins through their common Webb Ancestor. Even more interesting is the fact that Algernon was directly descended from three of the children of Groves Howard. I wonder what relation he was to himself.

FOREWORD

Information of the type found in this book is no better than the reliability of its source. As much care as possible has been taken to verify all of the information presented here. A list of references is shown in the back of the book. As most researchers know, even printed references cannot always be trusted. Many items were found which were based on speculation by the author of the item and which collapsed completely on a more searching examination. Another trap for genealogists is family tradition and "what-Aunt-Minnie-always-told-me". It is unfortunate that more people did not write their stories down, as word-of-mouth transmission is often inaccurate. I hope that I have not been guilty of passing on too many such errors.

Obviously a book such as this is not the creation of the author alone. My main contribution has been collecting and editing available information. I have had a great deal of help from many sources in this study. I am particularly indebted to Mrs. E.M. Wilkerson of DeRidder, Louisiana, who did much original and valuable searching. Much information and many dates were obtained from my aunts-- Mrs. Dewitt Rowland of Maceo, Kentucky, and Miss Judith Hunt of Washington, D.C.--and my father, Russell A. Hunt. Judge Hunt Parker of Raleigh, North Carolina, gave me the first lead on the North Carolina Hunts. Mrs. Amos B. Clement of Oxford, North Carolina, was most helpful in supplying information on the North Carolina Hunts, and was very kind to me when I visited Oxford. Mr. Porter Hunt of Calhoun, Kentucky, and Mr. E. Outlaw Hunt of Oxford, North Carolina, also gave me valuable leads. I was able to visit and do research at the following locations:

Newberry Library, Chicago, Illinois
Library, University of Kentucky, Lexington
Kentucky State Historical Library, Frankfort
North Carolina State Library, Raleigh

History, Raleigh

The information on the descendants of Algernon Hunt and Mahala Wesley Davis was obtained directly from the first and second generations of descendants.

This brings us back to my original purpose. I present this book to my children, and to all of the other members of the third generation of descendants. It is hoped that when they are older, they will appreciate and enjoy this glimpse into the past.

ALGERNON HUNT

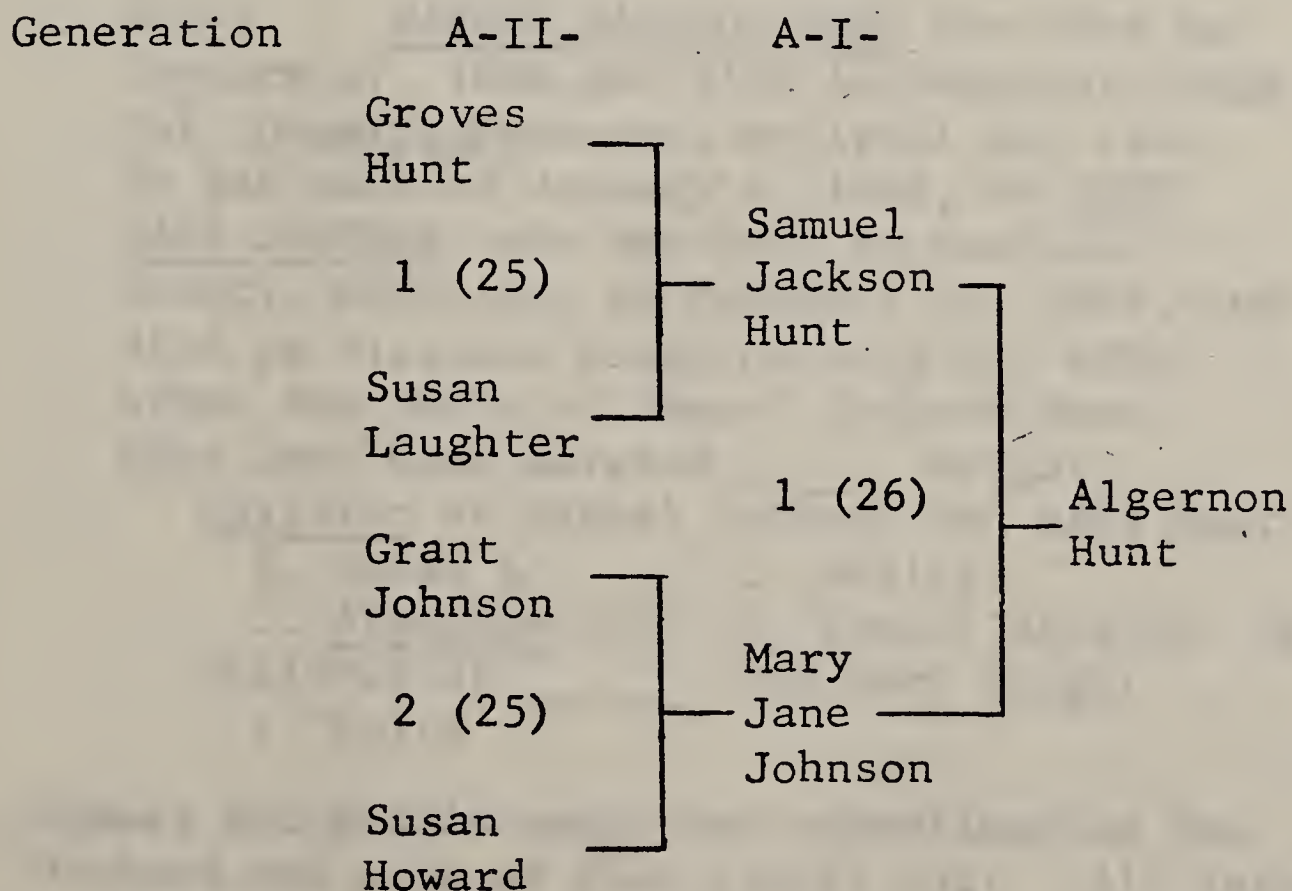

MAHALA WESLEY DAVIS

HOW TO USE THIS BOOK

To present genealogical data in a logical, understandable form, it is necessary to organize it systematically around some base point. None of the systems I found in the various books from which I took data seemed suitable, so I have developed my own. I guess this is my privilege, since every one else seems to have done the same thing. I hope that this system makes it easy for the reader to find and extract the information he desires.

The base point used in this book is my grandparents, Algernon and Mahala Hunt. Generations of ancestors are numbered back from them. Generations of descendants are also numbered from them. Data are presented in two forms; bracket charts showing family relationships, and more detailed writeups on individuals. In each generation, family units (husband and wife) are considered rather than individuals. The following bracket charts and forms illustrate the system used:

This is an ancestor bracket chart. The number A-I- heading the second column shows that Samuel Jackson Hunt and Mary Jane Johnson are ancestors (A) of the first generation (roman numeral I) before Algernon

HOW TO USE THIS BOOK

Hunt. The number 1 between Samuel Jackson Hunt and Mary Jane Johnson shows that they are the first family listed in that generation. (Since the number of families doubles with each generation of ancestors, the first generation contains two families, the second - 4, the third - 8, the fourth - 16, the fifth - 32, the sixth - 64, etc. In this book, through the sixth generation, each family is numbered according to its proper place in a complete bracket chart. For the seventh generation and beyond, the families are numbered only in numerical sequence without regard to where they would be in a complete bracket.) The complete identification number for Samuel Jackson Hunt and Mary Jane Johnson is A-I-1. The number in the parenthesis after the 1 between their names on the chart gives the page number where detailed information about Samuel and Mary is presented. Turning to this page, we see:

A-I-1 SAMUEL JACKSON HUNT was born on January 17, 1826 and died in Pleasant Ridge, Ohio County, Kentucky, on April 22, 1855. He was married January 4, 1848, to MARY JANE JOHNSON, who was born in Daviess County, Kentucky, on February 12, 1829, and died in Pleasant Ridge on July 22, 1902. After the death of Samuel Jackson Hunt, Mary Jane Hunt married _____ Wright.

Samuel and Mary's names are underlined as the husband and wife of that family unit. All information available on each is included in this writeup. Second marriages of either spouse are included, as in this case. Here the word children in "Children of Samuel Jackson and Mary Hunt" is underlined, since this marriage is the one producing the direct line of descent. The name of the second child, Algernon, is underlined since he is the descendant of interest. The number in parenthesis after Algernon's name gives the page number where information is available on Algernon and his wife.

The information on descendants is organized in a similar fashion. A descendants bracket chart is shown below:

Generation	D-I-	D-II-	D-III-
Algernon Hunt	Russell Aubrey Hunt 6 (34)	Russell Aubrey Hunt, Jr. 18 (40)	Gail Hunt 27 (43) Judith Hunt 28 (43)
Mahala Wesley Davis	Miriam Virginia Horine	Bessie Clark Burris	Curtis Clark Hunt 29 (43)

Here the number heading the column refers to the generation of descendants. In the third column, the number D-II- refers to descendants (D) of the second generation (roman letter II) after Algernon and Mahala Hunt. The number between names is that of the family unit in that generation. Hence the complete number for this family unit is D-II-18. The number in parenthesis after the family number is the page where more detailed information is presented. Turning to this page, we find:

(18) RUSSELL AUBREY HUNT, JR. was born January 18, 1922, in Fayetteville, Washington County, Arkansas. He was married April 12, 1947, in Little Rock, Bourbon County, Kentucky to BESSIE CLARK BURRIS, born February 18, 1922, in Bourbon County, Kentucky.

Principal occupation of husband - Chemist wife - Homemaker

Present address - 602 North Woodlawn, Griffith, Lake County, Indiana.

Children of Russell and Bessie Hunt

1. Gail Hunt (43)
2. Judith Hunt (43)
3. Curtis Clark Hunt (43)

The names of the husband and wife are underlined. Second marriages of either spouse are included. The number in parenthesis after the name of each child shows the page where complete information on each child is presented. Since none of the third generation is married at the time this book is written, a space is left after each of their names so information can be added in the future.

NOTE - Many of the family identification numbers heading the detailed writeups show more than one family number; for example, A-V-4,(12),(14). These come about because of the multiple relations through the Howards and Webbs. In the ancestor chart for Algernon Hunt, we find that he is descended from three of the children of Groves and Hannah Howard. Only one set of brackets was carried back to conserve space in the chart, but multiple listings were made in the detailed writeups to show the true relationships. These are numbered for the proper place in a complete bracket chart. In the case of the Webbs, both Algernon Hunt and Mahala Wesley Davis were descended from William and Frances Webb. Complete bracket charts for the Webbs are shown in the charts for both Algernon and Mahala Hunt, and the detailed writeups show both family identification numbers.
